Washington, D. C., September 26.— Herbert Hoover, it was learned here (Copyright, 1928 by Basil Manly.) today, attended the meeting of Presi dent Harding's cabinet on October 18 1921, at which, the official records of the navy department disclose, the policy and legality of leasing the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills oil reserves was discussed and approved, accord ng to the sworn testimony of Rear

Admiral John K. Robison. Far from being a mere informa discussion of the leasing of these billion-dollar oil fields, the evidence indicates clearly that the question of legality was raised, that this matter occupied substantially the entire time of the cabinet meeting and that it ide-tracked consideration of the im-

The Revolution in Agriculture

GARET GARRETT

How many voters, or farmers even, understand this revolution and the true causes of it? No "professional friend of the farmer" has fully probed or stated them.

No question before the American people is more vital or made up of so many problems, contradictions and paradoxes as this one.

Can the largess of politics be more than an "economic adventure", as one senator put it?

With fewer families than formerly on farms, and less land tilled, production steadily increases with receding prices. Yet those farmers who understand the important difference between productivity and production are prospering.

Mr. Garrett gives us a clear, non-political picture of this revolution, historically and economically, in three articles that begin in this week's number.

this valuable enterprise.

In connection with the regular meeting the society plans this year to devote much attention to exhibits and wishes to hold a general horticultural show. It plans to pay particular attention to floral exhibits. An opportunity is to be afforded for individual displays, both in varieties and general collections, but officials of the society expressed the belief that the greatest good can be accomplished through well arranged displays made by garden clubs.

These, it is explained, may be either in the form of general display, which would indicate the results which the club has been accomplishing, or the club may put on a model exposition covering any feature of the home or community development. THREE KINDS OF ITCH. Like salve, rhematiz and smoking bacco, toe itch comes in three forms, namely, pocket or trial size, household size and hospital size. You saves your money and tries your luck. Whichever type or kind you happen especially in reference to the degree of itching you suffer. In order to com-plicate the situation thoroughly at the utset let us here define the three va-its produced by the invasion of the skin of the feet by the larvae of hook-worms, prevalent in the polluted soil of many of the more primitive southern regions and sometimes encountered n northern states. The penetration the soft skin between the toes by larvae, and the bacteria they carry of the skin (dermator) papules and pustules, considerable swelling, and violent itching. This swelling, and violent weeks. This type of toe itch represents the first stage of hookworm disease in the majority of cases; though the larvae may be taken into the body in polluted food or drink or from unclean fingers in some cases. 2. The second type of toe itch is apparently on the increase, or at least I receive many more complaints about it now than in former years. This is a kind of ringworm of the skin of readily spread from one person to another in or about swimming pools, the gymnasium floor, the bathle use mats In Tampa the police are ordered to ascertain whether or not a couple is married before they completely to the next foot that treads the In this ringworm infestation of the skin the main characteristics are peeling of skin, little blisters or papules, and constant itching, especially between the toes. Again the moral is, wear your boots when you patronize a swimming pool or gymnasium or ori-

This third variety is a wee big vague—I am not at all sure it exists, but testify to my best knowledge or belief. It is, like the other two kinds, mainly a 'tween toes affair. It is invariably associated with excessive sweating and maceration of the skin. Sometimes there is It seems that Mr. Carnes was a crop of little blisters. It is usuala crop of little blisters. It is usually accompanied by more or less cracking of the skin and some peeling. There is no --ticeable swelling and little if any pustule or papule formation. Washington, September 26 .- Develoment by the state of the great water power resources which nature has, so bountifully bestowed upon the people of New York has long been Alfred E. Smith's principal economic issue. This brings him into direct conflict with Herbert Hoover who has repeatedly advocated leasing the nation's power sites to private coroporations and contains that state regulation of rates is sufficient protection for the

he had not yet worked out a definite constructive plan for state develop-ment and therefore refrained from making positive recommendations.

In 1921, when Smith was defeated for reelection, his successor, Governor Nathan L. Miller, appointed him one of the commissioners of the port authority, charged with the development of New York harbor. Although this post carried no compensation, Smith plunged into its work with enthusiasm. Under the law creating it the port authority is authorized to issue bonds exempt from state taxation to pay the cost of the great public im-provements, such as bridges, tunnels sinking fund to retire them are pro-vided for out of the charges made for

In this port authority plan Smith found the solution for the great practical problem of financing the dams and power houses necessary for the full development of New York's water power resources. By this method the oney necessary could be borrowed at

Public Ownership

Washington, September 26 .- There s no doubt where Herbert Hoover stands on one of the great economic ssues of today-ownership and control of electric power developed from the nation's great water power re-

He is against public ownership of ydro-electric plants—except as an in-dent to flood control or navigation. He is aginst public operation and listribution of power under substanially all conditions

He is for state regulation of elec-tric public utilities and against fed-eral regulation even in the case of inerstate transmission of power. He believes, or did believe prior o the recent federal trade commission revelations, that the new generation of public utility executives "has firmly grasped its responsibility to the pub-lic" and that "there has been a gen-uine growth of business conscience and service far more precious than any amount of legislation."

"It is my own view." he told the Columbia River Basin League on August 21, 1926, "that the federal government should not go into the business of either generating or distributing electric power. There may be some special cases, but our general policy should be against it. Where power is a by-product of dams for other major public purposes such as navigation, etc., then the federal govnavigation, etc., then the federal govnavigation, etc., then the lederal government should lease the power rights so as to recover as much or the whole of its total investment as may be. Where the development is for power only, then it should be leased under provisions of the federal water power act which amply provide for control by the government."

the government. It is true that Secretary Hoover did indorse the Swing Johnson bill providing for construction of Boulder Dam on the Colorado river, but this measure provided for government development and sale of power only in case it proved impossible to lease to private interests. Views or Muscle Shoals.

With reference to Muscle Shoals he said in testifying before the house committee on appropriations: I am in favor of the development of Muscle Shoals for making nitrates. I would like to see Mr. Ford do it, if that will suit anybody. I do not know whether Mr. Ford's terms are the terms that congress cight to adopt. I could not speak as to that but I would like to see anybody who has the capital take Muscle Shoals and turn nitrates out of it tomorrow."

State regulation of public utilities appears, in Secretary Hoover's opinion, to be sufficient to protect the public from possible abuses. In his speech on "Why the Public Interest Requires State Rather Than Federal Regulation of Electric Utilities" on October 14, 1925, he said, in denying out of it tomorrow.

the existence of a "power trust:"
"I am perfectly confident that
American states are not going to sur-render their rights and their freedom money necessary could be borrowed at a very low rate of interest, say 41-4 per cent, without impairing the state's credit or imposing any burden upon the taxpayers. The cost of this capital could be paid for out of the sale of the electric power either to private of the electric power either to private corporations of municipalities.

The cost of this capital could be paid for out of the sale of the electric power either to private of railway exploitation of a generation ago, for fear that this may be repeated. Thus far, since the campaign opened, Mr. Hoover has remained silent upon this issue. But it is difficult to call in the transformation of the electric power distributions.

"In this way," Smith declared, "the valuable frantices and the same of the same o pected, either economic or legal, should happen and we find an occupied field requiring regulation, it will be time enough then to talk of federal control. No such condition exists today or is on this point Governor Smith has the support of Owen D. Young, chair, man of the beard of directors of the world's Roosevelt aid: "There has been a Roosevelt aid: "There has been a residue to provide corersistent effort to give private cor-orations control of the water power this country. There has been an effort to give that control to the aluminum trust. If the aluminum trust makes its money fairly, all right, but the natural resources of the state, it is time for us to object. Do not give up your water power for a promise of quick development. We are poor citzens if we allow the things worth

Governor Smith has not limited his advocacy of public development of water power to New York state, but d such policies as indersed such policies in connec-ion with the construction of the great has also made a thorough study of the bill providing for public operation of the great government plant at Muscle Shoals which President Colidge killed with a pocket veto at the end of the last session of congress.

Whatever may be the reason for this omission, and there the reason for this omission, and there are various explanations, it can be stated upon the highest authority that Governor Smith was not responsible. On the contrary, he sent to the Houston convention a plank declaring specifically for public operation of Muscle Shoals and Senator Wagner, of New York, made a vigorous fight for its adoption with such a record it is attributed to see how Governor Smith can avoid making public development of waterpower one of his leading economic issues in this campaign as he has in all of his campaigns for governor.

Then follow the familiar criticisms of public operation—bureaucracy, in-efficiency, red tape, and the creation of a horde of government employees—together with a new line of attack on government ownership, which appears to be original with Mr. Hoover. The Issue of Co

In much the same vein, Secretary Hoover addressed the New York Republican club during the 1926 campaign when Alfred E. Smith was a andidate for governor on a platform favoring public development and con-trol of power resources. Hoover said trol of power resources. Hoover said then in what was construed as an attack upon Smith:

Some faint odors of socialism are still about our country. Some groups would have the federal government undertake the operation of public utilties; some groups would have these operations undertaken by the individ-ual states. The epublican party holds to the protection of public interest by regulation of private enterprise— it does not believe in the deadening hand of operation by government bu-reaucracy. The republican party has challenged socialism with a new 20th century. Sharp Cleavage in Views.

Here we have clearly the issue upon which Hoover and Smith may lock horns before the campaign is ended, in spite of the efforts of both parties to avoid the question in their plat-forms. Smith has said:

The Vital Issues That Are Involved in the

Not since President Andrew Johnon, 60 years ago, stood at the white ouse door in Washington, as Horatius stood upon the bridge at Rome fighting an almost single-handed bat tle against a congress of violators and nullifiers of the national constitution, has the issue of constitutional morality been more acutely presented to the American people than in this pending presidential campaign.

It has been 70 years since anything so mean as a spirit of religious ostra-cism has obtruded into the politics of our country. In that first case it was formidable and threatening to the whole fabric of American freedom, but the democratic party of the 50's went boldly into battle against it. Georgia voters who go to the polls in the general election on November 6 will find, besides the names of Alfred E. Smith and Herbert Hoover, the presence of eight proposed state constitutional amendments to otherwise engage their attention.

Two of the amendments are of statewide interest, while the remaining six are mostly in the nature of proposed enabling statutes which would allow increases in bonded indebtedness in several cities of Georgia. Copies of the proposed amendments have been forwarded to many Georgia dailies by Josephus Camp, state printer.

the proposed amendments have been forwarded to many Georgia dailies by Josephus Camp, state printer.

Proposed amendment No. 332 would authorize the general assembly to prescribe the duties, authority and salaries of the secretary of state, comptroller-general and treasurer.

Another of wide interest proposes that Georgia cities of over 25,000 population be granted authority to pass zoning planning laws. The proclamation of Governor Hardman calling attention to the proposed amendment specifically mentions the cities of Atlanta, Savannah, Macon, Augusta, Columbus, LaGrange, Brunswick, Waytoross, Albany, Athens, Rome, Darien, Decatur, Valdosta, Newnan, Thomaston and East Thomaston and "cities having a population of 25,000 or more, according to the census of 1920."

The zoning regulations contemplated would regulate use to which the zones would be put, and regulate the plans for development and improvement of the real estate therein.

The general assembly is given authority to authorize municipalities to pass zoning and planning laws.

The proposed amendments of importance in several localities include No. 391, which would authorize Fulton county commission, and the Atlanta police band will perform, and every effort will be made to assure them of Atlanta's pleasure at having the transferred to this city from the national capital.

They will occupy offices in the new Southern annex, now near completion, and will form the first contingent of the second and the second county of the thority to authorize municipalities to pass zoning and planning laws.

The proposed amendments of importance in several localities include No. 391, which would authorize Fulton county or Richmond county to make temporary loans, providing that such loans must be paid out of the taxes received by the county in the year in which said loans are made.

No. 370 would allow Ware county to increase its bonded indebtedness to provide for the construction of a hospital.

They will occupy offices in the new Southern annex, now near completion, and will form the first contingent of the 1,200 who ultimately will come here on a decision of road officials to locate administrative offices near the center of operations of the Southern system.

W. Bayne Gibson heads the men's division of the reception committee, and Mrs. Mildred Seydell the wompital.

No. 321 would enable the legislature to abolish justice courts and the office of justice of the peace in certain cities, and establish in lieu there of such court or courts or system of courts as the general assembly may deem necessary. This clause would be added to paragraph one of Section 7 of Article 6 of the constitution.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stom-ach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you relish food and digest it properly.

Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing. Mr. Lee R. Bridges, of 904 North
Lee St., Valdosta, Ga., says:
"Nothing I ate did me any good. I noted a big change before the first bottle of Tanlac was gone. After two more, my work was so much easier I could hardly believe it!"

If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

The young men took up the fight for the party which had carried the state through that period and which had held the only torch to the hopes of those who believed that the state of Georgia should be governed by those who had made it. That campaign was a great success and Alexander H. Stephens was elected by an overwhelming majority. He carried every county in the state except six.

"This is without doubt the most comprehensive campaign of vilification, lies and prejudice witnessed in this country since the days of the know-nothing party and I want to tell you frankly that such tactics are going to elect Al Smith to the presidency."

"The more they talk along this line the better it is for Smith and for the country," he said. "Such attacks as Heflin is making gives us a chance to know what kind of men and women are listening to it. This campaign will settle once and for all the question of whether a man can hold public office who does not happen to be a Mayflower Protestant like some of us."

Mr. Roosevelt said Governor Al Smith, although a Catholic, has done more for the common schools of his state of New York than any ten of the preceding governors of that state. He said the campaign also is killing the "bunk" that the republican party is responsible for prosperity—but has shown that prosperity is in no way dependent upon a republican administration.

Judge Hines continued. "Well when I see Clark Howell and Hoke Smith standing there fighting shoulder to shoulder for the democratic party, I feel like we are really drawing closer together."

Judge Hines said he felt an "intense ipterest in this campaign" because Al Smith is an advocate of states' rights.

"If we want to preserve a few of the states' rights I adjure you to support Governor Al Smith, who is the greatest states' rights leader since Thomas Jefferson."

Judge Hines expressed approval of Governor Smith's views on religious liberty. He said Robert Toombs wrote in the Georgia constitution that religious liberty. He said Robert Toombs wrote in the Georgia constitution that religious liberty is a natural and inalienable right of every human to worship God according to the dictates of his own heart. Offered Name of Smith.

Roosevelt, with others of the hosts of democracy, journeyed to far-off San Francisco in 1920 and when roll Call of states was sounded and New York reached he rose to offer the name of Alfred E. Smith as his state's name of Alfred E. Smith as his state's aspirant for the nomination. He knew then that he had no chance for victory, but his speech went on, merely a gesture of his own personal belief in the governor and the belief of thousands of his fellow New York democrats. Little did he realize then, however, that in the short space of eight years would his candidate become so widely known and so universally liked that only a gesture would be needed to release a tremendous ovation for him and to bring to him the nomination of his party on the first ballot.

Back to Washington went Roosevelt where he completed his cabinet to gain the realize fight. Having "sold" his candidate to democracy he now is selling him the productive farms in New York state, and his place near Warm Springs, in Meriwether county. Back to Washington went Roosevelt, where he completed his cabinet tenure, the completion of which marked the beginning of the long illness which left him destined to be a cripple probably for the remainder of his days.

By 1924 Governor Smith had acquired a large following which was to back Roosevelt's plea for his nomination. So, when the democratic convention gathered, Roosevelt once the fight. Having "sold" his greatset fight. Having "sold" his candidate to democracy he now is selling him to six or eight million normal republican majority of the nation. And he believes he'll do it.

Someone asked Mr. Roosevelt Wednesday if he intended to keep on championing Governor Smith in the event he is defeated in November.

But he can't see defeat. He is certain that he's working himself out of a job in this campaign and when it's over there'll be nothing to do but to return to his farm to stay.

FINE CATTLE ENTERED | RED CROSS LEADERS FOR SHOWING AT FAIR SPEAK HERE TODAY

Two Fine Guernsey Herds Are Newest Entries in Big Event.

Two of the best known herds of Guernsey cattle in the middle west are entered in the national hog and cattle show at the Southeastern Fair, which opens its gates to the public at 8 o'clock Saturday morning to run for seven days, it was learned Wednesday afternoon from Oscar Mills, secretary and manager.

Entries for the Georgeland Farms, of Lebanon, Ind., consisting of 15 head of cattle, and for the Ernest Higgin Farms, of West Salem, Ill. consisting of 21 head, were received early in the week and recorded on the entry book Wednesday. Both the Georgeland and the Higgin farms will showing in this section for the

Among other entries recorded in the Guernsey class are the Oak Terrace farms, owned by Dr. L. C. Fischer, prominent Atlanta physician and co-owner of the Davis-Fischer hospi tal; the Clover farm, of Dovesville, S. C., and the Miley Bright Guernsey farms, of Decatur.

There will be keener competition this year than ever before in the Guernsey class, according to Judge John S. Candler, chairman of the livestock committee of the Southeastern Fair. The premium list is considerably larger than usual and with the two new herds entered, visitors at the fair are certain to see some of the best blooded cattle in the country.

Not only win the competition in Guernseys be keen, but the Jersey class will be much stronger than ever before and some unusually good stock has been entered in that class also. Among the leading herds entered in the Jersey class are the Berry schools, of Rome, always a favorite to carry off honors; the Fifth District A. & M. school, the Rest Cottage farms, of Columbus, and several others whose entries have been received but not recorded as yet.

"We were sorry to lose the Emmadine farms herd, the famous Guernsey stock owned by J. C. Penney, of New York, but that herd is showing in the middle west during our fair week," Judge Candler said.

All of the cattle barns have been recovered and all of the old stalls have been cleaned and new bedding has been put in, Judge Candler stated Wednesday, and every convenience possible will be made for exhibitors this year. The barns will be whitewashed during the remaining two days before the fair, it was stated Wednesof re the fair, it was stated Wedr

DRINKS IMITATING INTOXICANTS BARRED

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. The sale and manufacture of all beverages which imitate intoxicating drinks yet do not contain alcohol, believed outlawed Wednesday by drinks yet do not contain alcohol, was believed outlawed Wednesday by the supreme court, which upheld in all particulars the Georgia "bone dry" enactment designed 13 years ago "to secure uniform and adequate enforcement of prohibition."

"Home brew" was particularly hit in the sweeping decision, which affirmed the conviction and a $25 fine accorded Dewey Young for making such malt beverage in Bartow county in July of 1927. The high court's opinion said that any drink containing malt is barred in contemplation of the prohibition enactment of 1915.

Gasoline Held Necessity.

Gasoline Held Necessity. The supreme court acted in co tion with another vital commodity Wednesday by declaring the Sabbath sale of gasoline to be an "act of necessity." This decision, coming in answer to request by the court of appeals for an interpretation of the Georgia penal code section defining acts of necessity, admitted that days of rest, as provided by statutes, are constitutional, but should be liberally construed to effectuate the purpose intended.

The ruling was prompted by an appeal to a $100 fine visited upon George Williams, of Sylvester, for selling five gallons of the motor fuel 'on Sunday in September of 1926.

Earlier Opinion Cited. Chief Justice Russell stated in the course of the opinion, that Wednesday's ruling was reflected in an earlier opinion which held that a man was justified in selling food for livestock on Sunday when the stock were unable to continue without food longer. The sale of such food and the sale of gasoline were alike held to be acts of necessity and therefore legal on the Sabbath.

The high tribunal's decision outlawing drinks which imitate or substitute for intoxicants expressed the opinion that traffic in such beverages "affords a cloak for the clandestine manufacture and sale of intoxicants, the evil which legislation was designed to prevent." Chief Justice Russell stated in the

Judge Fines Lawyer For "Talking Back," But Later Relents

Talking back to the judge cost Reuben Garland, attorney, a fine of $25 Wednesday in Judge Jesse Wood's criminal court of Atlanta, but an apology by the lawyer later caused Judge Wood to relent and remit the fine.

Attorney Garland objected to Judge Wood's questioning the arresting officer, stating that it was up to the solicitor to ask the witness all the questions. Judge Wood opined that he had a right to conduct his own court as he a right to conduct his own court as he saw fit, and when Garland continued the argument, Judge Wood offered the attorney the choice of paying a $25 fine or serving three days in jail.

--- and of all the 31 Prizes there is not one that will add more happiness to the home than this---

The Constitution was going to present THE MOVIETEST with a group of attractive prizes. In the mail of THE MOVIETEST Editor was found a letter. This letter was from a housewife, and part of that letter is quoted in the following:

"It goes without saying that you are going to give away some lovely prizes. No doubt you will have automobiles, and radios, and Victrolas and all sorts of beautiful prizes. But listen, Mr. Movietest Editor, HAVE YOU EVER STOPPED TO CONSIDER THAT MANY HOUSEWIVES SUCH AS MYSELF WOULD RATHER WIN SOMETHING PRACTICAL FOR THE HOME THAN AN AUTOMOBILE?

"Why don't you offer a Kelvinator Electric Refrigerator? Thousands of women would love to have it. Thousands of us who have just been on the verge of buying it but stopped for any one of a dozen trivial reasons.

"You don't have to be afraid of giving away a Kelvinator because those of us who have been deciding upon buying an electrical refrigerator know that Kelvinator is the pioneer in its field, and that from its earliest days it has been dependable. I clearly understand it is much easier for you men who stay all day in offices to grow enthusiastic about an automobile or a musical instrument—but did you ever try to place a value on convenience, enjoyment and wholesomeness-on leisure hours created, or on improved quality and increased healthfulness of foods?

"If you want to give a prize that will surely build good-will for your newspaper, give something that will last—something that will be as prized years from now as it is today. You might be interested in knowing that I have a friend whose Kelvinator is 12 years old, and it is running on, smoothly, quietly and economically after 12 years of service.

"Anyway, that's my idea of a REAL PRIZE either for you to award, or for some one to win. Do something NEW, Movietest Editor. Give a Kelvinator as a prize."

The Movietest Editor duly considered and investigated just what the writer of that letter had said. And as a result there are TWO KELVINATORS offered by The Constitution as prizes in THE MOVIETEST.

Both of these Kelvinators are on exhibition at 492 Peachtree street, through courtesy the Kelvinator Sales Corporation at Atlanta.

Will Ask Death For Kidnaper Of Chicago Boy

HORSES, WILL

Chicago, September 26.—(P)—Death in the electric chair will be demanded for Angelo Petitti, accused abductor of Billy Ranieri, when the state brings him to trial on indict-ments charging him with kidnaping for ransom and extortion. Petitti was indicted for the secand owner, with his brother, of the ond time today, this time in 48 counts, and will be arraigned Friday. State's attorney announced that they would call for the death sentence under the statute denominating kidnaping for ransom as a capital crime.

It was under this same statute that prospectives four years are demanded.

$3.50 Birmingham $3.50 Saturday Oct. 6th. via SEABOARD. prosecutors four years ago demanded exaction of the death penalty for Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, confessed kidnapers and slayers of Bobby Franks. They were indicted on 16 counts, and the indictment returned against Petitit today contained 48, one of the longest on record here.

The accused man's wife was being sought today in the belief that she knows the whereabouts of the farm where the Ranieri boy was hid for 13 days.

will push the ball off to the right. They fail to recognize an established fact, namely, that the face of the club and the ball remain in contact for a short span of time. In other words the ball does not leave the face as first contact is made. So, if the club comes from the inside to make contact and then follows through on the line the shot will be true. No problem in golf worries the average player more than bringing the club into the ball inside the line. Failure to do so causes ing the club into the ball inside the line. Failure to do so causes a slice, the most common of faults. Turnesa makes proper contact easy by reason of the stance he takes, the right foot at right angles to the line of flight. Try that stance, if troubled by slicing. Take the club back with

As-ray pictures today revealed the collar bone had been completely fractured. Mandell, following the advice of his physician, was forced to cancel his match with Lope Tenerio, scheduled for Cleveland, October 8, and several other attractive offers.

Mandell returned to his home in Rockford immediately after the fight to have the fracture set. He said the injury occurred in the first five seconds of the contest when Goodrich, the former title holder, sent a wild swing crashing down to the collar bone as he stepped in to avoid the blow. Although suffering intensely from the pain, Mandell stuck the round out, reported his injury to his seconds and they called a physician and the bout was stopped.

Although given a technical knockout over Mandell. Goodrich did not win the title as he had agreed to enter the ring over the weight limit.

A golf or tennis tournament lasts a week. But the ball player goes to bat in April, and when he is crowded all through the stretch up to October he has been called on to face more he has been called on to lace more nerve weariness than any other ath-lete in sport. Any competition, played every day for six months, is bound to take a heavy toll of nerve reserves. Babe Ruth, for example, was well ahead of his old home run record as long as his team was well in front, but the strain of a hard finish spiked any number of his big guns.

QUARTERBACKS' VACANCIES.

There were at least five great quarterbacks in the game last fall in Spears, of Vanderbilt; Drury, of Southern California; Connor, of N. Y. U.; Hunt, of Texas A. and M., and Mann, of S. M. U.

It will take some quick develop-It will take some quick development to fill their places. Yale has a good quarter in Hoben, and this means a good start. The Army has a good quarter in Nave. The fates of Princeton and Harvard depend largely upon the quarterback material at hand. If Bill Roper could dig up any Danny Caulkins he ought to win every game. If Harvard can find another Buell the Crimson will be up with anybody, bruited about. Visiting sports Caulkins he ought to win every game. If Harvard can find another Buell the Crimson will be up with anybody. Harvard had a lot of speed and power late last fall that went to waste through misdirection. It so happens that good quarterbacks seem to be born. They are hard to make in a season. If you will recall past performances you will also recall that most that good will also recall that most star to be season. If you will recall past performances you will also recall that most star to be supplications for passes.

"The pass" question was the most bruited about. Visiting sports writers, here to send back to their respective papers individual accounts of the game, were directed to the box office where the pasteboards were before the past game to the past of the past of the past of the past performances you will also recall that while the past performances you will also recall that the past performances that the past performances you will also recall that the past performances that the past performances that the past performances that the past performances that the past performance that the past performanc

Vance Downs Cardinals, 6-1; Idle Giants Gain Half-Game

Brooklyn Bangs Away at St. Louis Pitchers To Give Vance Easy Victory.

The Gink did it with his little home roosting contentedly on every available perch in the seventh inging, with hardly a thought of moving from where they were. The Gink caught one of Red Bird Mitchell's choice spiters and sent it on a ride to far and distant parts for a complete trip around the bases and safe transportation home for all the Robins on the bases.

Idle Giants Gain.

This blow enabled the home flock from Brooklyn to humble the St. Louis foe by a score of 6 to 1 so as to reduce the Mound City margin in the pennant race to a bare half game over the Giants, who sat idle in the chill of the stands.

The Robins regained Vance's lost game over the Giants, who sat idle in the chill of the stands.

The Booklyn speed ball merchant found the cold, bleak day not to his liking, and it seemed for a time that he would walk the Cardinals to exhaustion before the first half of the first round could be ended. Douthit, High, Frisch and Harper hit the trail around the paths of Vance's wild shots alone and Douthit in evitably was forced across the plate.

Then and there the procession halted. The oil began to flow in the grown any dibt.

The not began to flow in the first staff of the first produced way from Hafey.

The Cardinals never seriously threatened at any other time after the first. Canadian Champ Challenges Haugdahl to Match Race During Meet at Fair.

Released from his entry in the Cleveland speedway meet next week, Emory "Spunk" Collins, Canadian champion, wired last night that he will be in Atlanta for the auto races at the Southeastern Fair next week at the Southeastern Fair next week

Then and there the procession halted. The oil began to flow in the Dazzler's right wing, and the Cardinals might just as well have hung up their bats for the rest of the afternoon. Five scattered hits were collected by the western leaders, but as many times Vance put on extra steam and breezed the ball wast inert bats or saw those bats raise weak pop-flies in what might be termed pinches.

Little Rabbit Maranville, dean of all the Cardinals, opened up the fifth with a triple, the first hit off Vance, but stood frozen to third base in amazement as Mitchell, Douthit and High failed to bring him home. As a matter of fact, the Rabbit himself was trapped off the base when Douthit missed the ball on an attempted squeeze, but he scampered safely back on Hank Deberry's poor toos to each him to flow in the Dazzler's last game beyond any doubt.

Mitchell Relieved.

Passes to Deberry and Carey and single by Gilbert set the stage for young Mr. Hendrick. His drive bounded away from Hafey.

Hendrick's blow sent Mitchell into a state of collapse, and Sylvester Johnson was rushed to the rescue to pick up the pieces. He did this very well, as the Robins once more had become normal.

"Dad" Is Gone.

THOUGH boxing and wrestling and other indoor sports may go on like Tennyson's brook, forever, they will never be quite the same in Atlanta. For "Dad" Coolidge has taken the final count under the hand of The Great Referee.

No matter what athletes climb into the ring at the city auditorium or other place of amusement and no matter how many howling fans take their places at the ringside there will be one vacant chair down at the official timer's table underneath the ropes. For "Dad" Coolidge is dead.

These Football Coaches.

IN THE matter of pure pessimism the world at large has generally conceded first prize to such fanatics as the anarchists, end-of-the-world cultists and such like but that conclusion is

The heavy-browed annihilists are veritable Pollyannas in comparison with college football coaches. Correspondence with a number of the coaches in the southern conference reveals the startling fact that not a single team in the lot will be worth watching this fall,

They are all the same. There is no Pollyanna among them. Every one looks forward to a terrible season. Some of them grudgingly admit that "the boys may win a few games" but all is darkness. After conversing with several of them the only question now seems to be, who is going to win the games that are won. Both teams can't lost any more than both can win but the former of these two alternatives appears to be the only solution after talking with the coaches.

The discussion with a coach is usually about like this: "Well, coach, things look pretty fair for this fall, don't they?"

"Why, you've got plenty of veterans back and a lot of sophomore material coming up that you can use in a pinch."

"Yeah? Well, I haven't got anybody to do the kickin' and the Lord only knows how many of these boys I'll have left after the faculty gets through with them."

"Who's likely to be bumped off by the faculty?".

"Oh I dunno, probably the best men I got."

"Johnny Whosus will make you a good back with a little experience and he can take the place of Chuck Whatsis if he should get bumped or injured."

"Yeah. He could take his place in 1934 if he kept right on improving at his present gait."

"Well, after careful analysis of the schedule and the prospects don't ou feel that you will have a fairly successful season?" Huh? Mebbeso if somethin' don't happen. But it usually coes.

Oglethorpe Engages Dahlonega Eleven on Petrel Campus Tomorrow.

BY FRED M'EACHIN.

Atlanta's first football game of the urrent season will take place Friday fternoon on the Oglethorpe campus when Coach Harry Robertson's Pet-rels tie up with the North Georgia Aggies hailing from Dahlouega. Robertson has been drilling his charges all week and believes that his pupils will make a creditable show-ing against the Aggies tomorrow. A light workout this afternoon will terinate the pre-season training period ing tilt with the Aggies will be nothing more than a practice game. Booking a weak team for the initial fray of the season is a new idea at Oglethorpe and also a good one. It will give the coaches an opportunity to observe the developments of their efforts and thus make improvements for future games.

Robertson has been running several men in the backfield and it is not known just who will be the quartet of ball toters to open the game to morrow. Cy Bell will be at quarter-back, this is almost a certain fact. Lyman Fox and Amos Martin will probably start at halves. There is also a possibility that Charlie McLaughlin will occupy one of the halfback posts in the opening contest. Vaughn or Brooks will carry the fullback burden. With these men carrying the ball for the Petrels there should be plenty of scoring during the afternoon's activities.

Captain Hutson will be seen at center while Hoke Bell and Curly Burford will probably fill the guard position. The proportunity to display their wares against Adrian Maurer's Aggies.

He pays the head waiter to restore order and Patricia introduces Kirklin to him and then asks Fanning to take her home. A few minutes later, as Kirklin leaves the place with his companion, he is followed by a man on the street who appears to be drunk. The hawk-nosed person, known as Bart Stoman, after taking the blonde woman home, makes for his secret hideout and there zoes over a number of old newspaper cliptings dealing with the disappearance of the daughter of the sugar king. Colonel La Verry, who has offered a million dollars reward for the return of his child.

He continued to laugh, fumbling for another of his large, oily cigars.

"Might as well make myself confortable," he said to the brick walls. He looked at his watch absently. "As soon as Joe gets here." he mused. "we'll start something. Hmm," he rubbed his right cheek contemplatively, "I don't know as I'd like to have a birthmark tattooed even on my own map. The kid's out of luck, that's all I've got to say."

It was gray dawn before Bart Stoman let himself out into the misty silence of the dingy west side street. From force of habit he looked cautiously to left and right, but except for a prowling black cat not a living thing was visible. "Ten o'clock then," said Stoman, crisply. "Ten at the latest. You pick him up then, Joe, and don't let go if it takes a week. Here—need this?"
"It'll do for a starter," the pallid little man remarked and swiftly pocketed the yellow backed bill. Then he stood up, stretched. "I'm goin' in on the sofa next door."

Registrar For Class A and Class B Common Stocks:

For Class A and Class B Common Stocks: GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK THE CHEMICAL NATIONAL BANK OF NEW YORK Mr. Robert Jemison, Jr., President of the Corporation, summarizes his letter as follows:

Business-Southern Bond and Share Corporation has been organized under the laws of Delaware to carry on the business of an Investment Trust. It will invest and re-invest its funds in a broadly diversified list of bonds, stocks and other securities, in conformity with carefully formulated investment regulations established in the Certificate of Incorporation and By-Laws of the Corporation.

Management—The Board of Directors of the Corporation is composed of successful business men who have had broad general experience in finance and in industrial and public utility management. In the determination of an investment policy and in the selection of individual securities the Board of Directors will be assisted by the Investment Research Corporation, which includes in its personnel a group of highly trained analysts and several of the country's leading economists. The Investment Research Corporation has supplied the economic, financial and corporate analyses which The Investment Company of America, Pacific Investing Corporation and American Capital Corporation have used in the management of their funds. The total investment fund now under its supervision is in excess of Class A Common Stock (No par value)____ There will also be outstanding option warrants for the purchase of 76,666 shares of Class B Common Stock at $10 a share at any time prior to June 30, 1940; and the Corporation has entered into contracts under which similar option warrants for an additional 123,333 shares will be issued at a intervals during the next five years.

The issuance of Bonds, Debentures or other evidences of indebtedness maturing one year or more from the date thereof is limited by the Articles of Incorporation to an amount equal to the aggregate of the capital then paid in, and the reserves, surplus and undivided profits of the Corporation. Class B Common Stock... __500,000 shs.

Upon completion of this financing the corporation will have a net investment fund of $1,200,000.00 and in addition thereto an operation reserve fund set up from subscriptions by founders and directors to Class "B" Shares, estimated sufficient to pay the organization cost and operating expenses of the corporation, other than taxes, during the first year and a half of operation.

General-Investment Trusts have had a long and successful history in England and Scotland and are considered one of the most practical mediums yet devised for affording investors safety of principal and a liberal return. The fundamental principles that have made for the success of investment trusts are careful selection of investments, broad diversification and constant supervision. Southern Bond and Share Corporation will operate upon these principles. Its securities will be diversified industrially and geographically and the investment research program of its advisor is one of the most comprehensive ever undertaken in the United States.

All legal matters in connection with the issuance of this stock have been passed upon by Messrs. Bradley, Baldwin, All, and White of Birmingham, Ala. and Messrs. Dykema, Jones and Wheat of Detroit, Mich. Delivery will be made by Allotment Certificates exchangeable on September 1, 1929, or earlier at the option of the Corporation, for Certificates for Class "A" Common Stock and Class "B" Common Stock. It is anticipated that Allotment Certificates will be ready for delivery on or about September 25, 1928.

Market Rises.

Despite assertions that Canada and Argentina were both cutting prices to induce Europe to buy, the Chicago wheat market took an early swing upward and the close was at virtually the day's top figures. Word came that Argentine offerings at Liverpool were smaller than they have been and it was shown that exports of wheat and flour from the United States last month totaled almost double what they were in July, with North American shipments abroad for the last two months greatly in excess of the amount in the corresponding time last year.

Meanwhile strength exhibited by the Winnipeg wheat market, with buying of future deliveries there for houses with seaboard connections was more than a counterbalance for talk of hedging pressure from the northwest. In addition only 60 per cent of wheat reaching Winnipeg was reported as now grading No. 4 northern or better, whereas the rule of late has been is high as 80 per cent. On the other land, world available supplies of vheat increased 21,293,000 bushels for the week, and are now 209,010,000 ushels against 163,661,000 bushels ist year.

Frost reports from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Nebraska gave strength to the corn market and so likewise did talk that Europe was after new corn from the United States, bidding within 21-2c of a working basis. In some of the best sections of Illinois 30 percent of corn was said to show light to heavy damage from frost, mostly as to quality. Oats prices failed to show any substantial improvement, although St. Louis was reported buying No. 2 white oats for immediate transit, a situation seldom seen at this transit, a situation seldom seen at this time of year with a liberal crop of new Provisions declined as a result of

New York, September 26.—(P)—Organized efforts to extend the recent rallies in stock prices were only partially successful in today's market. Despite the reduction in call money from 7 to 6 per cent, the lowest in a month, which ordinarily would be construed as a bullish factor, the market encountered strong selling resistence probably because of the heavy liquidation inspired by the cautionary liquidation inspired by the cautionary advices of some of the leading commis-

TWO EARTH SHOCKS FELT IN WARSAW

Warsaw, Poland, September 26.— (P)—Two slight earthquake shocks which created a panic for a short time were felt in the Districts of Buc-zacz and Kopyczynce yesterday. The shocks were preceded by subterranean rumbling.

The quakes were local in character and no damage was caused. Earthquakes are rarely felt in Poland.

RASKOB PREDICTS AN EASY VICTORY

New York, September 26.—(P)—Chairman John J. Raskob, of the democratic national committee, predicted today that Governor Smith will carry 26 states in which four years ago the combined Davis-La Follette vote exceeded that polled by President Coolidge. He added that these do not include Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Jersey, from which he said "favorable" reports already have been received.

FORMER ROMAN DIES

Mrs. P. J. Mullen Succumbs in N. Y., Funeral Today.

Wednesday night caused considerable damage to the central plant of the Atlantic Ice and Coal company, in the rear of Decatur street, between the Washington street viaduct and Piedmont avenue. No estimate of the loss has been given.

The flames broke out in a storage room on the second floor of the two-stcry brick structure and were discovered at about 8 o'clock by the night engineer, R. V. Overbock, of 344 Park avenue.

Firemen were handicapped in their work by the fumes of ammonia which were escaping from an overheated tank. The fire burned for several hours in the walls of the plant, which are filled with a mixture of cork and asphalt, before the flames were brought under control.

Officials of the company stated that the fact that the ammonia feed pipes had been shut off shortly before the fire broke out probably averted a serious explosion.
